Lifelong Learning Happens Here.

A Message from Bill and Pat

Dear Friends,

Every great community tells its story not just through the words we share, but through the spaces we build, the conversations we host, and the ideas we nurture.

This past year, thanks to your generosity, The Westport Library did more than tell Westport's story. We helped shape it.

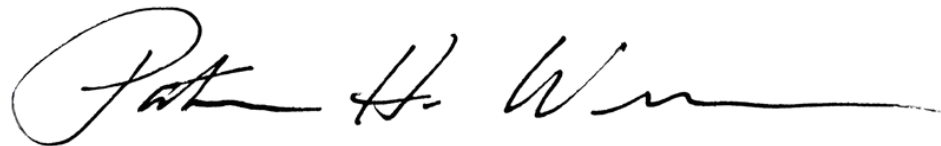

Because of you, more than 400,000 people walked through our doors. Some came to be inspired. Some came to find connection. All left reminded that this library is far more than a building. It is a heartbeat.

And your support made it all possible.

With gratitude,

Bill Harmer, Executive Director

Pat Wieser, Past President of the Board of Trustees

About The Westport Library

Our Mission

The Westport Library empowers individuals and fosters a connected, inclusive community through welcoming spaces, open exploration, the free exchange of ideas, and equitable access for all.

Our Vision

To be a future-focused library committed to lifelong learning, intellectual freedom, and creativity.

The Value of the Library

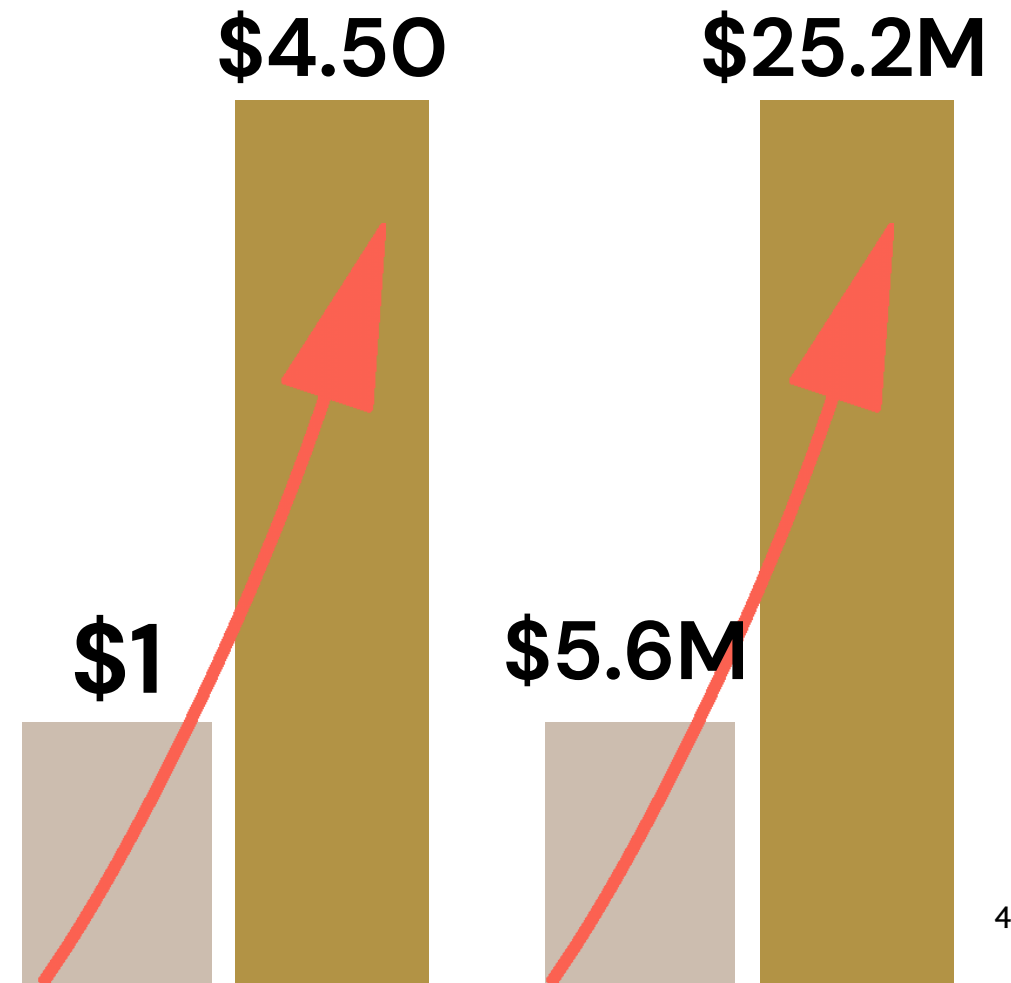

The Westport Library delivers exceptional value to the taxpayers and the community.

For every $1 we receive in public funding, we deliver $4.50 in value to the community.

That means the $5.6 million town appropriation delivers a $25.2 million value.*

Why Libraries Matter...

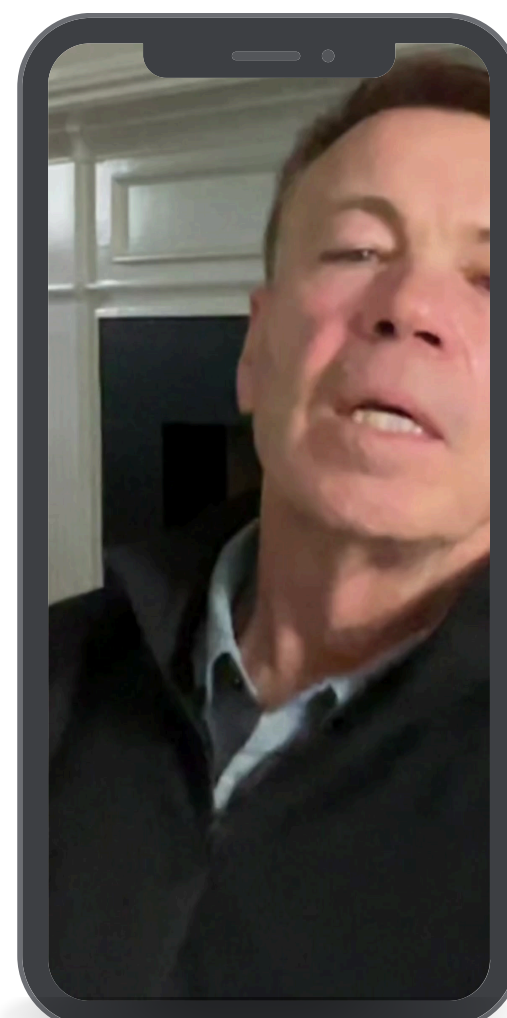

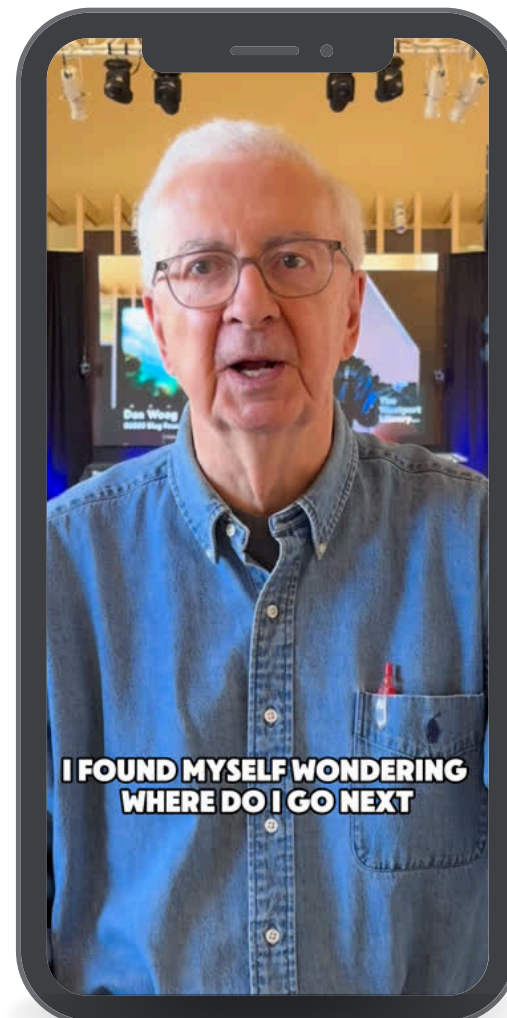

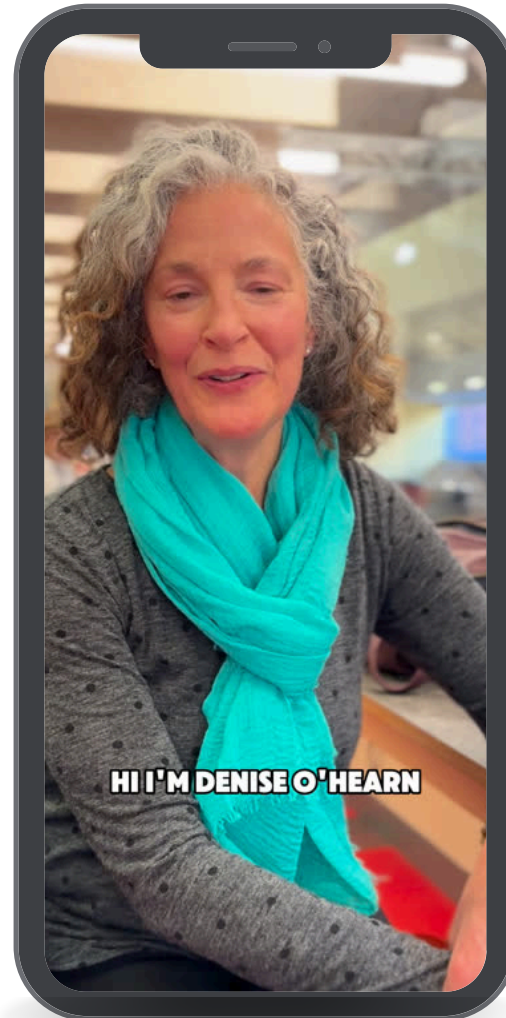

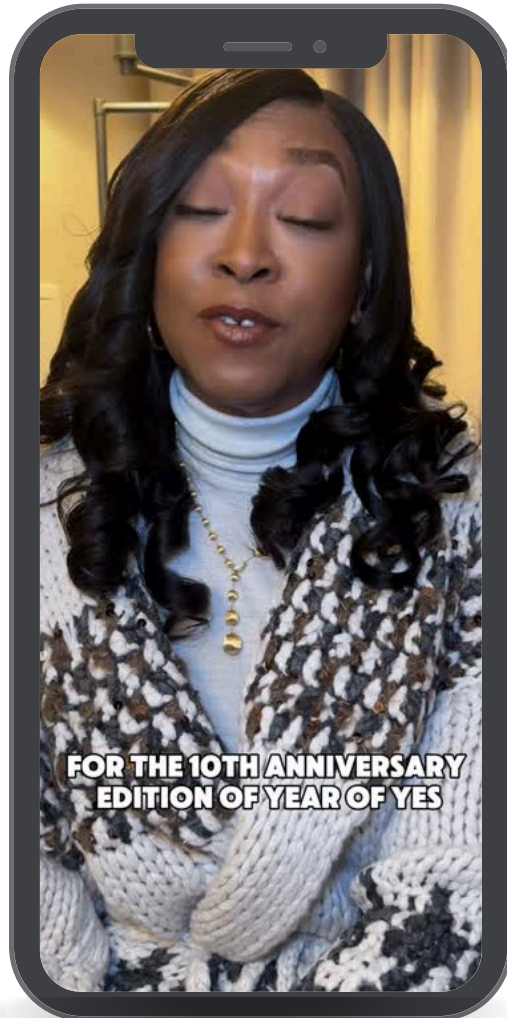

Libraries are the cornerstones of the communities they serve. Free access to the books, ideas, resources, and information in today's libraries is imperative for education, employment, enjoyment, and self-government.

Moments That Matter...

They said it!

“This is the best ‘damn’ library in the state of CT!”

-Keith Richards, songwriter, singer, and record producer

“I like the Library because it provides a space where I can study without distraction and an environment that keeps me productive. Specifically, the study rooms are an asset that I love to take advantage of. I can use them alone or with friends.”

-Olivia Beaton, Library patron

“Most incredibly versatile and innovative library I have ever seen. I tell everyone how amazing it is and how lucky we are.”

-Anonymous

“This is not your regular library. This is what every library in every major city should be like because it is such a resource for the community and for all the towns around and so on. They do just a magnificent job of integrating music and the arts, books as well.”

-VersoFest panelist Cindy Dunaway

“I cannot tell you how important libraries are to me, and have been my whole life, and to my family. This is such a great community here. Without library books, I never would have had my dreams.”

-Billie Jean King, BOOKED 2024 Honoree

“Must mention how amazing the reading challenge was. I swear it turned both my children into enthusiastic readers. Of all the amazing programming your offer that one made the biggest difference. Though they would have tried it if we didn’t happen to be at the library for the other programs.”

-Anonymous

“I absolutely adore this place! I love the atmosphere and it’s cozy. The librarians are wonderful people! I love volunteering here!”

-Alina Gabibullaeva, Library volunteer

They said it!: Staff Edition

“I love the connections we make with our patrons, both through books we love or through a shared love we have for this library. I feel like the people I have met here are ‘my people.’ The Westport Library truly feels like home.”

-Jessica Olson, Youth Services

“I love that I get to directly help the community in locating the information and stories they need. It’s also wonderful to be surrounded by people who are always looking to learn more, and who share my love of reading.”

-Maggie Loery, Reference

“I’ve often described working at the Library as like being in a candy store, having the opportunity to sample all the goodies and then having the joy of giving it all away for free, to happy customers. But, unlike candy, books and all the other goodies we offer grow our minds — not our waistlines!”

-Sharon Cooper, Patron Experience

“The Westport Library encompasses all of the same principles I align with — intellectual freedom, community, and a third space — making it my ideal workplace, not just in theory, but in practice. Everyone here enhances my experience and makes it a joy to work here and contribute to such a vital part of the community, investing in a space that symbolizes a hopeful future for society.”

-KT Kaminski, Marketing & Communications

“One of the best things about working here is the opportunity to meet people from so many different places and circumstances. Over the years, I have deepened my understanding of other cultures and ways of life. It is also a privilege to provide a service that is so meaningful to people and can really change their lives in so many ways.”

-Cathy Petrone, Youth Services

The Library is an open sanctuary. It is devoted to individual intellectual inquiry and contemplation. Its function is to provide free access to ideas and information. It is a haven of privacy, a source of both cultural and intellectual sustenance for the individual reader. - American Library Association
